Study on Operational Clearances.

1. In accordance with your telephonic request, I am sending you herewith a tabulation with respect to the time required in STC for the granting of operational clearances. The attached chart is self-explanatory.

2. While my statement concerning "two to six or eight months" appears to be an exaggeration in relation to the cases cited, you will note that even under the best conditions (i.e., when field traces are sent promptly) the average time is three months from the time clearance is requested to the time when full clearance is granted. Some cases at other desks have taken six months.

3. I should also like to make the point that a provisional clearance is virtually worthless for W/T operators (most of the KIBITZ cases are in this category) since these agents cannot proceed with intermediate and advanced W/T training until full clearance is granted.
